Introduction

The directors of Critchleys are committed to providing an exceptional, bespoke service for all clients. However, it is acknowledged that occasionally we may not reach the high standards expected from our team.

If at any time you would like to discuss with us how our service to you could be improved, or if you are dissatisfied with the service you are receiving, please let us know.

We undertake to look into any complaint carefully and swiftly and to do all we can to explain the position to you. All complaints are taken very seriously and considered carefully so we can learn and continuously improve.

Our policy covers complaints about:

- the standard of service you should expect from us
- the behaviour of our staff in delivering that service
- any action, lack of action, advice or lack of advice by our staff or others engaged in Critchleys business.

How to Make a Complaint

We can receive complaints in person, by telephone, letter, email or you may use our online form and you may address your complaint to any member of our staff. We understand that clients may feel frustrated at this time, but if complaints are addressed in person we ask that our staff are always treated with courtesy. All complaints will be forwarded to a manager and director of the relevant service so they can be assessed by the most senior people in our team.

Third Party Reporting

Complainants may wish to have a third party act on their behalf. Third parties may include:

- advice organisations
- professionals such as solicitors
- family members or friends

We will need written consent from a client when a third party is helping with a particular complaint. Where we have this authority, we will keep the third party informed of progress on the complaint.

Some lawyers and attorneys are legally empowered in certain circumstances to act on behalf of a complainant. In these circumstances consent to disclose information is not required.

Our Standards for Handling Complaints

- All complaints are overseen by the Directors
- We will treat you with courtesy, respect and fairness at all times
- Your complaint will be kept confidential within the firm.
- We will deal with your complaint promptly. We will acknowledge receipt of a written complaint within five working days.
- We aim to investigate thoroughly and provide you with a full response within 20 working days, but if your complaint is very complex we may not be able to complete our review within this time. Should this happen, we will write to you with an estimated completion date.
